(RUNNEMEDE, NJ – January 5, 2011) Sielox LLC, a leading provider of access control solutions since 1979, has been acquired through a management buyout with additional funding secured from a group of seasoned private investors. "This investment in Sielox LLC is a validation of the quality, sustainability and marketability of the solutions we have developed over the years. Becoming a private entity will allow us to allocate more funds into product development and fast track them for delivery to our business partner channel. We are committed to building our sales and business partner channel to ensure our continued success," said Karen Evans.

As part of its sales strategy, Sielox LLC will continue to offer Costar Video Products through its business partner channel and is committed to maintaining and growing its relationship with Costar.
